

The average wedding cost is expected to be around £18,605 in 2011. This is slightly down on the average wedding costs of 2010. Todays Bride has to be savvy about what she is expected to pay for certain services.

Wedding expectations are subjective to each individual couple and some will put more importance on certain aspects of the wedding than others. There is no minimum spend amount to make your day beautiful in your own style. We list below a breakdown of how those average prices are broken down to keep you on track for your budget and demonstrate which areas you could save on. For those on a budget, do read our money saving articles Be nifty, Get thrifty and
Money saving tips

Engagement Ring & Celebrations	£1,200
Stationery	£500
Stag & Hen nights	£280
Insurance	£120
The Service	£520
Wedding Rings	£650
Flowers	£750
Reception Decor	£500
The Brides outfit	£1500
Hair and Beauty	£180
The Grooms outfit	£200
Attendants outfits	£480
Transport	£520
Photography	£950
Videography	£900
Reception (Venue, food & drinks)	£4,030
Entertainment	£750
Wedding Cake	£400
Gifts	£175
Honeymoon & First night Hotel	£4.000
Total	£18,605