

Pure, crisp, cool. The white wedding scheme is big news. Some will be having literally everything in white, while others will be adding some deep gem colours into the mix, but not so much that it distracts from the purity of the main look.

