

Previously out of favour to the brighter colour of Red, Burgundy is back with a vengance, and why not? It's timeless, classic and refined. It is a colour that works well on its own or other shades of red including purples.

